FRENCH FLIERS LAND-SPANISH COAST

YELLOW BIRD IS SHEERED OFF PATH TO PARIS

HOPE TO MAKE 7TH NON-STOP CROSSING IN HEAVIER THAN
AIR MACHINE

FIGHTING A GALE IN MID-ATLAN-TIC CUT DOWN FUEL
SUPPLY

SANTANDER, SPAIN, JUNE
14.—THE FRENCH AIRPLANE
YELLOW BIRD LANDED HERE
AT 9:30 P. M. AT COMILLAS
BEACH TONIGHT.

Paris, June 14.—(UP)—The Bernard monoplane Yellow Bird has sufficient fuel to continue flying until 5 A. M. tomorrow, which is 38 hours from the time it left Old Orchard, Me., but not enough to reach Paris without refueling, the builders
of the plane estimated today.

They based their figure on the plane's known speed as far as the Azores.

Coastal radio stations, using 300, 600 meters, sought unsuccessfully to communicate with the plane this afternoon.

New York, June 14.—The French
monoplane Yellow Bird, her gasoline supply rapidly diminishing, was nearing the coast of Portugal this afternoon.

At 12:10 P. M. EST, the Yellow
Bird had been gone 27 hours from Old Orchard, Me., where it started on a flight to Paris at 9:10 A. M.
EST yesterday.

At 11:30 A. M. EST the French
wireless station at Bordeaux intercepted a message from a steamer
which relayed a message from the Yellow Bird, then half way between the Azores and Portugal.

The Yellow Bird was struggling against headwinds, the message said,
and Jean Assolant, the pilot, was worried about the rapidly dwindling
fuel supply.

The tenor of the message indicated that the Yellow Bird would be unable to reach Paris. It appeared most likely that, if the plane
made land it would head for Lisbon
and come down on the air field there.

Even if they miss their goal in Paris, however, the three French fliers (and possibly a stowaway who was reported on the plane) will have succeeded in flying across the Atlantic, making the seventh non-stop crossing from west to east in a heavier-than-air machine.

While the big French monoplane
was fighting the winds off Portugal,
the tenth anniversary of the first Atlantic flight—by Alcock and Brown
—was being celebrated in London.

Lisbon has an excellent air field
near the city, where the fliers could come down.

With approximately 500 miles to go, if the fuel holds out, the Yellow Bird should reach Lisbon at about 4:30 P. M. EST, or a little later.

The monoplane was far out of its intended course. Contrary winds apparently caused a greater consumption of gasoline than Assolant
had estimated, and at 7:30 last night
he notified the French line steamer Rochambeau that he was turning
south from his course to fly by way of the Azores and Portugal.

Paris, June 14.—The Yellow Bird
was half way between the Azores
and Portugal late this afternoon, the powerful French radio station near Bordeaux ascertained.

At 5:30 P. M. (11:30 A. M. EST)
the Bordeaux station intercepted a message from an unnamed steamer,
relaying a message from the Yellow
Bird, which at that time was only 500 miles from the Portuguese mainland.

The message said Jean Assolant, chief pilot of the French plane, was worried by the rapid consumption of fuel. However, he decided it was useless to turn back, since the continent was as close as the Azores.
Head winds were bothersome, the message said.

New York, June 14.—(UP)—An Atlantic gale rose in menace off the coast of Europe today as a bar on the path of the French monoplane Yellow Bird, making a daring attempt to span the Atlantic from Old Orchard, Maine, to Paris in the face
of advance warnings of bad weather
on the other side.

Early today French line steamer
Rochambeau reported that the fliers
messaged they were heading for the Azores and the Portuguese coast, because of the heavy inroads on their fuel.

Captain Marius Rollin of the Rochambeau reported he received the

DEBENTURELESS FARM BILL NEARS PASSAGE

PUSHED SWIFTLY TODAY TOW-ARD ITS FINAL ENACT-MENT

MAY BE SENT TO WHITE HOUSE
BEFORE PRES. HOOVER LEAVES
FOR THE DAY

Washington, June 14.—(UP)—
The administration's debentureless
farm bill was pushed swiftly today
toward final enactment.

The conference committees representing each house ratified an agreement eliminating the debenture plan
before noon. The house conferees brought the matter to the attention of the house immediately and by 12:15 P. M., the bill had been ratified by the house without discussion
or objection and was resting on the table of Vice President Curtis.

It waited there but 10 minutes
and then was taken up by the senate
upon motion of Chairman McNary
with prospects that debate would be shortened so it could be sent to the White House before President Hoover leaves his office for the day.

He is expected to sign it immediately and there is a chance he may announce tomorrow the personnel of the eight member federal farm board which is to take over agricultural supervision and administer a $500,- 000,000 federal revolving fund under provisions of the bill.

All known speed limits for legislation were smashed by the action of the senate. In all the history known to the oldest congressional employes,
no major item of legislation has received such swift consideration.

Just before the bill was taken up in the senate, Senator Steck, democrat, Iowa, read into the record a protest from the corn belt committee purporting to represent 1,000,000
farmers, and stating the bill in its final form "does not manifest the slightest effort to handle the all-important surplus question which is the root of the farmers' ills."

message at 12:30 A. M. Greenwich time, which would be 7:30 P. M.
Thursday, EST. The message was somewhat blurred, he said.

At that time the fliers had been gone from Old Orchard a little more than 20 hours. Obviously their fuel could not have run low in such a short time unless a leak occurred.
The message was interpreted as meaning the rate of consumption
caused the fliers to fear that their fuel would not hold out on their intended route, so they changed their course to be over land sooner.

The message from the Rochambeau follows:

"Picked up at 12:30 A. M. GMT a message somewhat garbled from FAX saying in consequence of the heavy consumption of gasoline, (the plane) would take a route by way of the Azores and the Portuguese coast.
"Rollin."

The distance from Old Orchard to the Azores is 2,100 miles, although the course of the fliers would make it much longer. At 10:10 A. M.
EST, they had been gone from Old Orchard 25 hours and if they headed for the Azores, should have been in the vicinity by that time.

Paris reported a 50-mile gale off
the French coast, blowing directly against the fliers. The sea was extremely rough.

The plane was making progress,
however, and at 7 A. M. EST was in communication with the steamer
Niagra, which was about 800 miles off the coast of Portugal. The steamer Laconia reported to London
that she heard the Niagra and the Yellow Bird in communication. The plane reported "All well."

The Niagra, a French line steamer,
advised her sister ship, the Ile de France, of the conversation, and the Ile de France relayed the message
to the French line here.

Senate Moves Today to Change Its 140-Year Old Secrecy Rule Considering Nominations

HUNT FOR GUNMEN EXTENDS TO THIRD NORTHWEST STATE

KIDNAPED LIEUT. GOV. W. B.
KINNE OF IDAHO ON TUESDAY

HUNDREDS OF POSSEMEN HAVE
BEEN ENLISTED IN THE
SEARCH

Orofino, Idaho, June 14.—(UP)—
The hunt for four gunmen who kidnaped Lieut. Gov. W. B. Kinne of Idaho near here Tuesday spread to a third state today with hundreds of possemen in the search.

Kinne and two men who stopped to aid him as he was struggling with the bandits by the roadside, were kidnaped and bound to trees in the woods, after one of the men, Paul Kille, had been beaten and shot. The other man, W. L. Tribbey, who came to the aid of the state official, also was beaten on the head with the gunmen's pistol butts. Tribbey was recovering in a hospital here today.

An area more than 200 miles on each side is being combed by possible. Bloodhounds have proved a failure in the search so far. The manhunt spread into eastern Oregon today as word came in that guards at a bridge
near the state border may have let
the bandits, who stole Tribbey's automobile, pass while searching the woods for them.

A blue sedan, bearing the Idaho license plates of Tribbey's car, was said to have been seen heading north
over the bridge.

MINNESOTA ROADS ARE PASSABLE

Roads in some parts of Minnesota
have been somewhat damaged by heavy rains the last few days, according to the weekly road condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Some routes in southern Minnesota which were good
a week ago are only fair and a few are poor. All are passable, however,
and with a couple of days of good weather the maintenance men will soon have all of the roads back to their normal condition. In some localities which were hit by cloud-bursts and wind storms there were temporary interruptions of traffic
due to high water and debris, but this was quickly removed and traffic started moving.

Some new detours have been put in effect during the past week. The roads in the Brainerd Lake Region
are as follows:

T. H. No. 2 — Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—260 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, good—McGregor, fair—Atkin, good—Hawley, paved—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca
and Brainerd—103 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker
and Cass Lake—93 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 27 — St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

Evanston, Ill., June 14.—(U.P.)— ing. Ruth snickered when the

was dismissed.

HOPE TO CHANGE CHARGE TO FIRST DEGREE MURDER

DAVID HURLBURT, KOOSCHICHING
COUNTY ATTORNEY, PROSE-CUTING CUSTOMS AGENT

PRELIMINARY HEARING OF EM-METT J. WHITE TO BE HELD
ON MONDAY

International Falls, Minn., June
14.—(UP)—David Hurlburt, Koos-chiching county attorney, today laid plans by which he hoped to bring Emmett J. White, customs agent, to trial, not on a second degree manslaughter charge but on a charge of first degree murder.

At the preliminary hearing here
Monday Hurlburt will ask that the more serious charge be placed against White, now held for the fatal shooting near here last Saturday night of Henry Virkula, 41, Big Falls confectioner.

The county attorney said that he would ask for the change on the grounds that there was enough evidence to indicate murder.

A special grand jury investigation
also will be asked, Hurlburt said,
that material witnesses may be held
until next October should the courts
bind White over for trial.

White has not changed from his first position that he fired on the Virkula car only after the driver had failed to heed commands to halt and
submit to search for smuggled liquor.

CHARRED BODY OF MAN FOUND

BELIEVED THAT OF GANGSTER,
FOUND IN BRUSH FIRE ASHES
AT RHINELANDER

Rhineland, Wis., June 14.—(UP)—
The charred body of an unidentified man, believed that of a gangster,
possibly of Chicago, was found near here Thursday in the ashes of a brush fire. A sawed-off shotgun, several discharged shells, and a bunch of keys were discovered near
the body.

Sheriff Hans Rodd said there were indications that the man had been
"taken for a ride?" in the woods
near Three Lakes perhaps a fortnight ago, murdered, and his body burned.

Chicago gangsters are known to vacation hereabouts, and since there were no reports of Onondaga county residents missing it was believed that the body might be that of someone from the Illinois metropolis.

RIDES OVER PROTESTS OF THE STANDPATTERS

NO SENATOR APPEARS TO BE
OPENLY OPPOSED TO THE
CHANGE

SMALL GROUP OF REPUBLICAN
LEADERS WISH TO DEFER
ACTION UNTIL FALL

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 14.—Riding
over the protests of former secrecy
advocates, the senate moved today to change its 140-year-old rule of consecutive session, and to provide for siding presidential nominations in publication of all future secret roll calls.

While no senator is now openly
opposed to the change, a small group
of republican leaders want to put off
action upon it until fall. The situation is such, however, that they must filibuster if they want to delay
a vote.

The Jones amendment proposing
the change is the pending business
of the senate, made so late yesterday
by a 45 to 29 vote.

If the Jones amendment is adopted
within the next few days as scheduled, the way will be cleared for a summer recess of congress the middle of next week.

All other important business was brushed aside when both houses
moved to clear up matters pending
in deadlock for the last few weeks.

After the house voted 259 to 113
against the debenture farm relief provision, the senate adopted the census and reapportionment bill, 48
to 37. Then the senate refused to take up repeal of the national originals provision of the immigration act
by a vote of 37 to 43.

House and senate conferees on the farm bill were meeting today to endorse again the administration bill minus the debenture feature. The plan is to report the bill to the house
at noon, seek to pass it this afternoon and then rush it through the senate. There will be no debate in the house and only four speeches in the senate.

Passage of the census and reapportionment bill sent that measure
to the president for signature, the first major item of legislation to reach him from congress since the special session began.

Action against repeal of the national origins law definitely blocked any possibility of changing the law
at this time. The national origins quota basis will go into effect July 1, over the protests of President
Hoover who wanted congress to repeal it.

SCHOONER WITH FIVE MAN CREW FOUNDERS

Montreal, June 14.—(U.P.)—Advises
here today said that the schooner
Sault St. Louis, with a five-man crew, has foundered off Cape St. Michel.
The crew apparently was lost, the advises said.

COLLAPSES AT POLICE STATION AND DIES

Venice, Ill., June 14.—(U.P.)—Seriously ill Mrs. Margaret C. Padberg, 59, Roxana, Ill., collapsed in the police station and died here after she
and the woman friend who was rushing her to a St. Louis hospital had been arrested for speeding.

BLAST SHATTERS ONE END OF ROBINS DRYDOCK, BROOKLYN

Brooklyn, N. Y., June 14.—(U.P.)—
An explosion shattered one end of the Robins drydock here today.
A few minutes after the explosion,
company officials said three bodies
had been recovered. They were those of Thomas Kennedy, Christopher Kelly and Phillip Burns.
Several other men were reported
seriously injured.

One-half of the floating drydock
was reported damaged.

HAY FEVER PATIENT REVEALS ABUNDING GRATITUDE FOR CURE

Hillshoro, O., June 14.—(U.P.)—
Because a professor at Jefferson
Medical college, Philadelphia,
cured him of hay fever, S. O. Scott, author, historian and authority on Spanish, bequeathed the institution an estate valued at $1,250,- 000 in his will filed for probate
here.

MRS. E. W. BACKUS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

CONDITION IMPROVES FOLLOW-
ING EMERGENCY OPERATION
AT HOSPITAL

BACKUS CAR AND ANOTHER
HEAVY CAR COLLIDED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, June 14.—(UP)—
Mrs. E. W. Backus, wife of the multi-millionaire lumberman, was seriously injured in an automobile collision near here but her condition
was said to be improved today following an emergency operation at Abbott hospital.

Mrs. Backus and her husband were driving near Lake Harriet boulevard when their car crashed
with another heavy machine driven by Dick Sawyer, son-in-law of Graff
Wolfe, president of the Hamilton
Manufacturing Company.

The force of the collision threw
Mrs. Backus against the roof of their sedan and she was badly hurt. She was rushed to the hospital where the emergency operation was performed. Backus was shaken up but was saved from possible injury by his hard straw hat. Sawyer, Wolfe and their wives were slightly injured.

3,000 MINNESOTA VETS OF FOREIGN WARS AT HOPKINS

Hopkins, Minn., June 14.—(U.P.)—
Three thousand Minnesota Veterans of Foreign Wars met here today in their 10th annual encampment prepared to demand increased hospital facilities
for their disabled "buddies" and increased pensions for Spanish and Civil war veterans.

The delegates from all parts of the state were welcomed to Hopkins by Mayor Hagen following which there was a meeting of the post commanders.

Included in the commanders either already present or expected before
the end of the day were Frank Hjelm,
St. Cloud; Malcolm O. Grant, Faribault;
James W. Hagen, Brainerd;
Thomas F. Stenck, Stillwater, and Adolph Carlson of Red Wing.

TWO CARS CRASH FOLLOWED BY CAR AND PLANE SMASH

St. Paul, June 14.—(U.P.)—Seven
persons were slightly injured here late Tuesday when a collision between two automobiles was quickly followed by an airplane-automobile crash.

A. H. Oberg, St. Paul, pulled his car up to the curb near the Larpenteur flying field to see the wreckage
of two cars which had collided a moment before when an airplane piloted
by John Hegberg swooped down and crashed into Oberg's car.

Hegberg and his companion, George Johnson, Minneapolis, were reported
slightly hurt and Oberg bruised. Others who were injured in the automobile smash-up were R. J. Nelson, St.
Paul; his wife, Laura, 27; his mother,
Mrs. A. C. Nelson, and Mrs. N. W.
Sawyer and L. M. Sawyer of Walker.

ISSUES WARNING OVER PROHIBITION SHOOTINGS

Washington, June 14.—(U.P.)—A warning that the United States would be thrown into a civil war if prohibition shooting is continued, was made in the house today by Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York.

"The division from now on is no longer between wets and dries but between peace and civil war," LaGuardia said. "Somewhere the wrong man
will be killed and people will retaliate
—meet force with force."

IT WILL NOT DISARM ITS CUSTOMS MEN

TAKES ACTION IN CONNECTION WITH VIRKULA CASE OF
BIG FALLS

PROHIBITION AGENTS, SAYS DE-PARTMENT, ALSO WILL NOT BE DISARMED

Washington, June 14.—(UP)—The treasury department today cleared
Customs Border Patrolman Emmett
J. White of culpability in connection with the killing of Henry Virkula,
a Big Falls, Minn., confectioner.

"Newspaper reports describing the shooting are highly colored to put it
mildly," Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman declared. "White apparently was acting within his authority under the law and has a perfect
defense to the charges against him.

"If he is indicted in the local court, a motion will be made for transfer to the United States court
in that district. A customs border patrolman is entitled to have all charges against him decided by a jury of his peers, the same as any other citizen.

"The treasury has no intention of disarming customs patrolmen. Should congress pass a law disarming them,
it would, in effect, repeal the tariff
laws, because only through police power can the smuggling of merchandise into the United States be prevented.

"The same thing holds good for prohibition agents. If they were disarmed it would nullify the 18th amendment. Treasury regulations control the use of firearms by its operators and the rules are very strict."

Lowman based his statement on an official report received early today
from Assistant Collector of Customs Linderberg at Duluth, who has jurisdiction over the customs border
patrol in that region.

Virkula was shot to death while
motoring with his wife and children.
No liquor was discovered in the car.
The clearing of White follows
similar action yesterday by the treasury in the case of two other federal operatives who shot alleged bootleggers this week. One of the shootings resulted in a death, while the other person received only injuries.

Asked by the United Press whether he cared to make public the complete details of the incident as described in the official report, Lowman
said:

"The official report which I have received from Linderberg is a confidential paper and the statement I have made is all that will be said
in regard to the matter."

International Falls, Minn., June
14.—Declaring that the treasury department may "whitewash" Border Customs Agent Emmett J. White as often as it likes," County Attorney David Hurlburt asserted today that the state of Minnesota will make every effort to bring him to trial on a first degree murder charge regardless of federal action.

Hurlburt said he hoped that the treasury department's action would not arouse many persons hereabouts
who already were angered over the shooting and that additional armed guards would be thrown around the jail in which White is kept if there were any indications of violence.

"It is almost unbelievable that Assistant Secretary Seymour Low-
man has cleared White of culpability in connection with the killing of Henry Virkula," Hurlburt said.

"More unbelievable still is the fact that Lowman contended the customs agent acted within the law
when he shot down this unarmed
and innocent citizen.

"We will fight with the last ounce
of our strength any efforts of the federal government to take the case
out of our hands.

"No one ever has denied that White is entitled to a trial before
a jury of his peers and we resent
any inferences that he would not be given a fair trial in Minnesota courts.

"The facts of the case as shown by carefully gathered evidence and testimony are these:

"The Virkula car, carrying the confectioner, his wife and their two small children, was fired upon from a sawed-off shotgun almost before
the driver had time to stop.

"Apparently Virkula was not driving faster than 10 or 15 miles an hour and the first shot may have

M., the bill had been ratified by the house without discussion or objection and was resting on the table of Vice President Curtis.

It waited there but 10 minutes and then was taken up by the senate upon motion of Chairman McNary with prospects that debate would be shortened so it could be sent to the White House before President Hoover leaves his office for the day.

He is expected to sign it immediately and there is a chance he may announce tomorrow the personnel of the eight member federal farm board which is to take over agricultural supervision and administer a $500,000,000 federal revolving fund under provisions of the bill.

All known speed limits for legislation were smashed by the action of the bill. In all the history known to the oldest congressional employees, no major item of legislation has received such swift consideration.

Just before the bill was taken up in the senate, Senator Steck, democrat, Iowa, read into the record a protest from the corn belt committee purporting to represent 1,000,000 farmers, and stating the bill in its final form "does not manifest the slightest effort to handle the all-important surplus question which is the root of the farmers' ills."

message at 12:30 A. M. Greenwich time, which would be 7:30 P. M. Thursday, EST. The message was somewhat blurred, he said.

At that time the fliers had been gone from Old Orchard a little more than 20 hours. Obviously their fuel could not have run low in such a short time unless a leak occurred. The message was interpreted as meaning the rate of consumption caused the fliers to fear that their fuel would not hold out on their intended route, so they changed their course to be over land sooner.

The message from the Rochambeau follows: "Picked up at 12:30 A. M. GMT a message somewhat garbled from FAX saying in consequence of the heavy consumption of gasoline, (the plane) would take a route by way of the Azores and the Portuguese coast. "Rollin."

The distance from Old Orchard to the Azores is 2,100 miles, although the course of the fliers would make it much longer. At 10:10 A. M. EST, they had been gone from Old Orchard 25 hours and if they headed for the Azores, should have been in the vicinity by that time.

Paris reported a 50-mile gale off the French coast, blowing directly against the fliers. The sea was extremely rough.

The plane was making progress, however, and at 7 A. M. EST was in communication with the steamer Niagara, which was about 800 miles off the coast of Portugal. The steamer Laconia reported to London that she heard the Niagara and the Yellow Bird in communication. The plane reported "All well."

The Niagara, a French line steamer, advised her sister ship, the Ile de France, of the conversation, and the Ile de France relayed the message to the French line here.

Senate Moves Today to Change Its 140-Year Old Secrecy Rule Considering Nominations

HUNT FOR GUNMEN EXTENDS TO THIRD NORTHWEST STATE

KIDNAPED LIEUT. GOV. W. B.
KINNE OF IDAHO ON TUESDAY

BEEN ENLISTED IN THE
SEARCH

Orofino, Idaho, June 14.—(UP)—The hunt for four gunmen who kidnaped Lieut. Gov. W. B. Kinne of Idaho near here Tuesday spread to a third state today with hundreds of possemen in the search.

Kinne and two men who stopped to aid him as he was struggling with the bandits by the roadside, were kidnaped and bound to trees in the woods, after one of the men, Paul Kille, had been beaten and shot. The other man, W. L. Tribbey, who came to the aid of the state official, also was beaten on the head with the gunman's pistol butts. Tribbey was recovering in a hospital here today.

An area more than 200 miles on each side is being combed by posses. Bloodhounds have proved a failure in the search so far. The manhunt spread into eastern Oregon today as word came in that guards at a bridge near the state border may have let the bandits, who stole Tribbey's automobile, pass while searching the woods for them.

A blue sedan, bearing the Idaho license plates of Tribbey's car, was said to have been seen heading north over the bridge.

MINNESOTA ROADS ARE PASSABLE

Roads in some parts of Minnesota have been somewhat damaged by heavy rains the last few days, according to the weekly road condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Some routes in southern Minnesota which were good a week ago are only fair and a few are poor. All are passable, however, and with a couple of days of good weather the maintenance men will soon have all of the roads back to their normal condition. In some localities which were hit by cloudbursts and wind storms there were temporary interruptions of traffic due to high water and debris, but this was quickly removed and traffic started moving.

Some new detours have been put in effect during the past week. The roads in the Brainerd Lake Region are as follows:

T. H. No. 2 — Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—260 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, good—McGregor, fair—Albion, good—Hawley, paved—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca and Brainerd—103 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—93 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 27 — St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

HOPE TO CHANGE CHARGE TO FIRST DEGREE MURDER

DAVID HURLBURT, KOCHICHING
COUNTY ATTORNEY, PROSE-
CUTING CUSTOMS AGENT

PRELIMINARY HEARING OF EM-
MET J. WHITE TO BE HELD
ON MONDAY

International Falls, Minn., June 14.—(UP)—David Hurlburt, Kochiching county attorney, today laid plans by which he hoped to bring Emmet J. White, customs agent, to trial, not on a second degree manslaughter charge but on a charge of first degree murder.

At the preliminary hearing here Monday Hurlburt will ask that the more serious charge be placed against White, now held for the fatal shooting near here last Saturday night of Henry Virkula, 41, Big Falls confectioner.

The county attorney said that he would ask for the change on the grounds that there was enough evidence to indicate murder.

A special grand jury investigation also will be asked, Hurlburt said, that material witnesses may be held until next October should the courts bind White over for trial.

White has not changed from his first position that he fired on the Virkula car only after the driver had failed to heed commands to halt and submit to search for smuggled liquor.

CHARRED BODY OF MAN FOUND

BELIEVED THAT OF GANGSTER,
FOUND IN BRUSH FIRE ASHES
AT RHINELANDER

Rhineland, Wis., June 14.—(UP)—The charred body of an unidentified man, believed that of a gangster, possibly of Chicago, was found near here Thursday in the ashes of a brush fire. A sawed-off shotgun, several discharged shells, and a bunch of keys were discovered near the body.

Sheriff Hans Rodd said there were indications that the man had been "taken for a ride" in the woods near Three Lakes perhaps a fortnight ago, murdered, and his body burned.

Chicago gangsters are known to vacation hereabouts, and since there were no reports of Oneida county residents missing it was believed that the body might be that of someone from the Illinois metropolis.

RIDES OVER PROTESTS OF THE STANDPATTERS

NO SENATOR APPEARS TO BE
OPENLY OPPOSED TO THE
CHANGE

ACTION UNTIL FALL

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, June 14.—Riding over the protests of former secrecy advocates, the senate moved today to change its 140-year-old rule of consecutive session, and to provide for considering presidential nominations in publication of all future secret roll calls.

While no senator is now openly opposed to the change, a small group of republican leaders want to put off action upon it until fall. The situation is such, however, that they must filibuster if they want to delay a vote.

The Jones amendment proposing the change is the pending business of the senate, made so late yesterday by a 45 to 29 vote.

If the Jones amendment is adopted within the next few days as scheduled, the way will be cleared for a summer recess of congress the middle of next week.

All other important business was brushed aside when both houses moved to clear up matters pending in deadlock for the last few weeks. After the house voted 250 to 113 against the debenture farm relief provision, the senate adopted the census and reapportionment bill, 48 to 37. Then the senate refused to take up repeal of the national origins provision of the immigration act by a vote of 37 to 43.

House and senate conferees on the farm bill were meeting today to endorse again the administration bill minus the debenture feature. The plan is to report the bill to the house at noon, seek to pass it this afternoon and then rush it through the senate. There will be no debate in the house and only four speeches in the senate.

Passage of the census and reapportionment bill sent that measure to the president for signature, the first major item of legislation to reach him from congress since the special session began.

Action against repeal of the national origins law definitely blocked any possibility of changing the law at this time. The national origins quota basis will go into effect July 1, over the protests of President Hoover who wanted congress to repeal it.

ING EMERGENCY OPERATION

BACKUS CAR AND ANOTHER
HEAVY CAR COLLIDED IN MINNEAPOLIS

Minneapolis, June 14.—(UP)—Mrs. E. W. Backus, wife of the multi-millionaire lumberman, was seriously injured in an automobile collision near here but her condition was said to be improved today following an emergency operation at Abbott hospital.

Mrs. Backus and her husband were driving near Lake Harriet boulevard when their car crashed with another heavy machine driven by Dick Sawyer, son-in-law of Graft Wolfe, president of the Hamilton Manufacturing Company.

The force of the collision threw Mrs. Backus against the roof of their sedan and she was badly hurt. She was rushed to the hospital where the emergency operation was performed. Backus was shaken up but was saved from possible injury by his hard straw hat. Sawyer, Wolfe and their wives were slightly injured.

3,000 MINNESOTA VETS OF FOREIGN WARS AT HOPKINS

Hopkins, Minn., June 14.—(UP)—Three thousand Minnesota Veterans of Foreign Wars met here today in their 10th annual encampment prepared to demand increased hospital facilities for their disabled "buddies" and increased pensions for Spanish and Civil war veterans.

The delegates from all parts of the state were welcomed to Hopkins by Mayor Hagen following which there was a meeting of the post commanders.

Included in the commanders either already present or expected before the end of the day were Frank Hjelm, St. Cloud; Malcolm O. Grant, Fairbault; James W. Hagen, Brainerd; Thomas F. Stenek, Stillwater, and Adolph Carlson of Red Wing.

TWO CARS CRASH FOLLOWED BY CAR AND PLANE SMASH

St. Paul, June 14.—(UP)—Seven persons were slightly injured here late Tuesday when a collision between two automobiles was quickly followed by an airplane-automobile crash.

A. H. Oberg, St. Paul, pulled his car up to the curb near the Larpen-teur flying field to see the wreckage of two cars which had collided a moment before when an airplane piloted by John Hegberg swooped down and crashed into Oberg's car.

Hegberg and his companion, George Johnson, Minneapolis, were reported slightly hurt and Oberg bruised. Others who were injured in the automobile smash-up were R. J. Nelson, St. Paul; his wife, Laura, 27; his mother, Mrs. A. C. Nelson, and Mrs. N. W. Sawyer and L. M. Sawyer of Walker.

ISSUES WARNING OVER PROHIBITION SHOOTINGS

Washington, June 14.—(UP)—A warning that the United States would be thrown into a civil war if prohibition shooting is continued, was made in the house today by Representative LaGuardia, republican, New York.

"The division from now on is no longer between wets and dries but between peace and civil war," LaGuardia said. "Somewhere the wrong man will be killed and people will retaliate—meet force with force."

IT WILL NOT DISARM ITS CUSTOMS MEN

TAKES ACTION IN CONNECTION WITH VIRKULA CASE OF
BIG FALLS

PROHIBITION AGENTS, SAYS DE-PARTMENT, ALSO WILL NOT BE DISARMED

Washington, June 14.—(UP)—The treasury department today cleared Customs Border Patrolman Emmett J. White of culpability in connection with the killing of Henry Virkula, a Big Falls, Minn., confectioner.

"Newspaper reports describing the shooting are highly colored to put it mildly," Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman declared. "White apparently was acting within his authority under the law and has a perfect defense to the charges against him."

"If he is indicted in the local court, a motion will be made for transfer to the United States court in that district. A customs border patrolman is entitled to have all charges against him decided by a jury of his peers, the same as any other citizen."

"The treasury has no intention of disarming customs patrolmen. Should congress pass a law disarming them, it would, in effect, repeal the tariff laws, because only through police power can the smuggling of merchandise into the United States be prevented."

"The same thing holds good for prohibition agents. If they were disarmed it would nullify the 18th amendment. Treasury regulations control the use of firearms by its operators and the rules are very strict."

Lowman based his statement on an official report received early today from Assistant Collector of Customs Linderberg at Duluth, who has jurisdiction over the customs border patrol in that region.

Virkula was shot to death while motoring with his wife and children. No liquor was discovered in the car.

The clearing of White follows similar action yesterday by the treasury in the case of two other federal operatives who shot alleged bootleggers this week. One of the shootings resulted in a death, while the other person received only injuries.

Asked by the United Press whether he cared to make public the complete details of the incident as described in the official report, Lowman said:

"The official report which I have received from Linderberg is a confidential paper and the statement I have made is all that will be said in regard to the matter."

International Falls, Minn., June 14.—Declaring that the treasury department may "whitewash" Border Customs Agent Emmett J. White as often as it likes, County Attorney David Hurlburt asserted today that the state of Minnesota will make every effort to bring him to trial on a first degree murder charge regardless of federal action.

Hurlburt said he hoped that the treasury department's action would not arouse many persons hereabouts who already were angered over the shooting and that additional armed guards would be thrown around the jail in which White is kept if there were any indications of violence.

"It is almost unbelievable that Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman has cleared White of culpability in connection with the killing of Henry Virkula," Hurlburt said.

"More unbelievable still is the fact that Lowman contended the customs agent acted within the law when he shot down this unarmed and innocent citizen."

"We will fight with the last ounce of our strength any efforts of the federal government to take the case out of our hands."

"No one ever has denied that White is entitled to a trial before a jury of his peers and we resent any inferences that he would not be given a fair trial in Minnesota courts."

"The facts of the case as shown by carefully gathered evidence and testimony are these: "The Virkula car, carrying the confectioner, his wife and their two small children, was fired upon from a sawed-off shotgun almost before the driver had time to stop."

"Apparently Virkula was not driving faster than 10 or 15 miles an hour and the first shot may have—

The 2-Door Sedan, $745
Body by Fisher

A Sweeping Success
because it offers Big Car Qualities for only $745

THUS far in 1929, the New Pontiac Big Six has attracted a volume of sales far surpassing the spectacular sales recorded for earlier Pontiac Sixes. The New Pontiac Big Six is a sweeping success—an even more pronounced success than its famous predecessors. And it owes its success largely to the fact that it offers big car qualities at low prices.

The New Pontiac Big Six has introduced a new standard of values into the low-priced field. There is big car luxury and comfort in its sturdy, skillfully designed Fisher bodies with their beautiful, long-wearing upholstery and their adjustable drivers' seats. Big car power, speed and acceleration are developed by its big, smooth engine equipped with a 1 1/4-inch carburetor. And big car safety is assured by its two separate braking systems—the emergency brake which operates on the transmission and noiseless four-wheel internal-expanding service brakes.

Oakland produced the Pontiac Big Six to enable progressive people to step up in motor car quality without leaving the low-priced field.

And the very people for whom it was created have made it an impressive sales success.

DURING the first five months of 1929, sales of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes totaled over 131,000 as compared with 131,303 for the same period in 1928 and 79,286 for 1927. The New Oakland All-American Six has come to be known through the enthusiasm of its owners as the finest medium-priced car in America today.

The 2-Door Sedan, $745
Body by Fisher

A Sweeping Success

because it offers Big
Car Qualities for only $745

THUS far in 1929, the New Pontiac Big Six has attracted a volume of sales far surpassing the spectacular sales recorded for earlier Pontiac Sixes. The New Pontiac Big Six is a sweeping success—an even more pronounced success than its famous predecessors. And it owes its success largely to the fact that it offers big car qualities at low prices.

The New Pontiac Big Six has introduced a new standard of values into the low-priced field. There is big car luxury and comfort in its sturdy, skillfully designed Fisher bodies with their beautiful, long-

wearing upholstery and their adjustable drivers' seats. Big car power, speed and acceleration are developed by its big, smooth engine equipped with a 1 1/4-inch carburetor. And big car safety is assured by its two separate braking systems—the emergency brake which operates on the transmission and noiseless four-wheel internal-expanding service brakes.

Oakland produced the Pontiac Big Six to enable progressive people to step up in motor car quality without leaving the low-priced field. And the very people for whom it was created have made it an impressive sales success.

DURING the first five months of 1929, sales of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes totaled over 151,000 as compared with 131,303 for the same period in 1928 and 79,236 for 1927. The New Oakland All-American Six has come to be known through the enthusiasm of its owners as the finest medium-priced car in America today.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1929

OUR ARMY OF NEW CITIZENS

DURING the first days in June hundreds of thousands of young men and young women have completed the first important step in life—high school graduation, says the Staples World. The next step will be either to enter college for still higher preparation, or to go forth into the world of business.

Every year a great class of these young people are added to the nation's assets as new citizens, trained and fitted to fill important positions in industrial and business life, and become the fathers and mothers of other millions to follow. Education means intelligence and intelligence means that the days of breeding and raising children to become "cannon fodder" have no place in Christian civilization.

What the world wants is men who have principle underlying their expertness, principle under their law, their medicine, their business, men who stand for something outside of their offices and stores, who stand for something in their community, whose presence carries weight. No substitute has ever yet been discovered for Honesty. Multitudes of people have gone to the wall trying to find one.

As parents, teachers, officials, we want every member of this class to set before himself high ideals—of honor, of integrity, of true manhood and womanhood, and then patiently set to work confident in his ability to face every issue, to extract success even from apparent failure.

All the schooling a man may get in a University will not make him master of a trade or profession. No matter what his name, his wealth or social standing, he must get into the push, and push—push hard and persistently. If there is anything you really want to know the only thing you have to do is to get after it and chase it hotly and persistently, even relentlessly, and you will drive it to cover in due time.

CHAPTER XLVI.

"WELL, Spring has come," the butcher boy said, dropping his brown paper bundle on the kitchen table.

Adelina Haines sniffed. "I only hope that leg o' lamb I ordered is Spring. Last one I got was Winter before last. You can tell Mr. Phelps for me that if he ever sends me another."

"Oh, this is genuine Spring lamb all right. Real Spring day, too. Well, g'bye, Miss Haines!"

Old Man Haines looked up from his rocker by the stove. "Yes another Spring. The buds are swelling on the trees. It's right pretty out there now, with the sun kind of sparkling on the wet branches. Martha always made a right big fuss over spring. Martha was a great hand for a few blossoms in the window there, in a milk bottle... yes... every Spring. He sighed and folded his puffy hands over his stomach, rocking gently back and forth. An "old-man habit" that never failed to irritate Adelina.

"Yes? Well, if you had the cold in your head that I got in mine you wouldn't be talking Spring, Spring! With mud over everything and your old toes still looking dead as door nails. Oh God, how sick I am!" And she began to cry noisily, not bothering to cover her face, so that the tears streamed down her sagging cheeks, streaking the pink paint, and in the glare of the kitchen window she looked incredibly old and worn.

He thought, with a twinge of conscience. "Why, she is sick!" He got up, and with gentle hands patted her fat shoulder. He felt suddenly virile, and young. His wife wasn't well. He'd have to take care of her. "Don't cry," he mumbled, with a return of his old, fatuous manner. "Don't worry. Adelina darling, I'm here!" He drew her head against his shoulder and awkwardly dabbed at her eyes with a big white handkerchief. And then he caught her breath.

"Adelina! Adelina, you've been drinking! You! My wife... my God... my wife, drinking... After all these years, and me who never touched a drop of intoxicating..."

"You're insulting me!" she screamed. "Just because I took a spoonful to ease my scotache, and maybe help my cold, when Dr. Thomas himself prescribed it, and I hate the taste of it so I'd rather take poison... That settles it... that settles everything. I'm through—I'm going!"

She actually got as far as the stairway before he had recovered enough to stop her, and even then she ran ahead of him, crying loudly, and threw herself on the top of her unmade bed.

"Adelina," he panted, "I didn't mean it. So help me God, I didn't. Darling, I love you. I'd do anything in the world for you."

"Anything but spend a nickel!" From the shelter of her protecting arms she could look up at his face. She saw that the shaft had hit home. "I haven't had the money," he said slowly. "That last I raised for Daphne was about all I dared—"

"Yes—for Daphne. You got it for Daphne," she taunted.

After a while she sat up, wiping her eyes. "It hurts so," she whispered. "To be so misunderstood. But all my life it's been like that, nobody ever understood me. It's all right, I can bear it. I only hope I can keep going a while longer, and don't drop in my tracks."

Crystal was curled up in the big getting dinner, that's all I hope... Well, it's all right. If you can't afford to hire me a woman to help, you can't. I'm only your wife, I'll stay by you anyhow. It isn't like a I was a daughter. Girls are all selfish. Even Crystal!" She was crying in earnest now.

"What's she been doing?" he demanded, straining the heaving Adelina closer to him. It was sweet to be in her confidence this way, having her complain to him about Crystal. She had never done that before. It showed she really loved him, depended on him...

"Oh nothing. But she won't come home to help me out... They're just alike, her and your Daphne, go off and leave us. And I'm worried about her all alone in the city, livin' on air, because you won't send her anything, and not having any money to hire a woman to help me like I should have, with my high blood pressure an' my poor feet... ooh, Abner!" The rest was drowned in tears.

He held her until her stormy weeping had ceased. His mind was made up. Why worry about next year? They'd be dead, perhaps, and why save your money for ungrateful children?

"I'll get you a woman," he promised. "I'll get you some money to send Crystal! You can go get you a Spring hat, too. I guess Abner Haines ain't beat yet!"

And as he walked to town he thought he had not felt so well and so young for months.

After he had gone Adelina went to the mirror and massaged her face with cold cream, and a tissue builder that the flashing brunette who sold it said would work a miracle in six weeks. She had high hopes of it, it had been so expensive. Then she telephoned to San Jose, and made an appointment for a permanent wave and a peroxide rinse. Things were looking brighter.

In the cracked soup tureen on the top shelf of the china closet there was a little pile of paper money. Money that Daphne had sent. She went to the pantry and counted it now, though she knew the amount to the last cent. Eighty dollars in bills, six dollars in silver, and eight copper cents.

"It's no more than right!" she thought, counting out fifteen for the permanent, and two for the peroxide rinse. "With a good position like she's got she ought to help some at home. Other girls do. If my girl was working I'd make her do the same. Besides I might need it to bury Abner, you need ready money at a time like that, and he's her father!"

But thinking of Abner dead in his bed, and Abner rattling off in a black wagon, so unnerved her that she began to sniffle again, and had to take another little taste of medicine to pull herself together. Now that Abner knew about the medicine, and understood why she took it, she wouldn't have to be so careful.

"Ahh!" she gasped, as the pale, burning liquid went down. The old peach brandy was gone long ago. This, which she was able to get through the vegetable man for two dollars a pint, didn't taste nearly so good.

"But it's good enough for my nerves," she thought, and sat down in Abner's chair to wait for him to come back from town with the promised cook. A pleasant drowsiness stole over her. "I wonder what Crystal's doing today?"

SHELL MOTOR OIL WEEK

"Ask the Shell Man"

Here's the way to whip carbon

YOU have been fighting carbon ever since you drove your first car. You have probably come to accept carbon as a necessary evil... to consider frequent carbon removal and valve grinding jobs as unavoidable.

But thousands of owners of automobiles don't think so. They have found a way to get rid of the carbon complex. They have discovered that they can whip carbon with Shell Motor Oil.

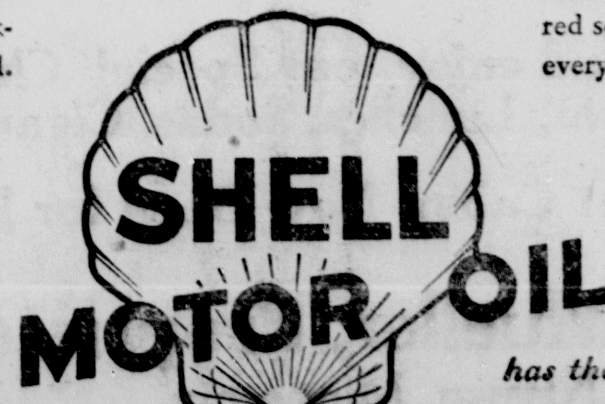

Shell Motor Oil forms very little carbon. And what there is, is soot-like, fluffy and non-fouling. It readily blows out with the exhaust gases.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil declare that this soft, sooty carbon does not foul spark plugs, choke ignition or pile up on piston heads. They find that it does not bake on valve seats or get in around piston rings, causing loss of power. They are not bothered by the danger of abrasive carbon particles in the crankcase with the lubricating oil.

To the man who asks for oil by name, we say: "Try Shell for 30 days"

MILLER HUGGINS SEEMS TO FIT IN AS A MIRACLE MAN

DAWSON OF CHICAGO IS ELIMINATED AT SANDWICH

YANKEES ARE STICKING TO RACE WITHOUT RUTH

BOB MEUSEL, MARK KOENIG, HERB PENNOCK OUT OF LINE-UP TOO

WHEN BIG MACHINE CRUMBED, IT CANNOT BE PUT BACK TOGETHER SOON

New York, June 14. — If you're looking around for a miracle man these days, Miller Huggins, diminutive manager of the New York Yankees, seems to measure up to specifications.

Somebody ought to get credit for the way the Yankees are sticking in the race without Babe Ruth, Bob Meusel, Mark Koenig and Herb Pennock and there's not much need of going any farther than the sour little Cincinnati lawyer.

When the great baseball machine begins to crumble, history records that it can't be put back together on a moment's notice.

It certainly looked like the beginning of the end for the world champions along in May, but almost over night Huggins got the Yankees back on their feet, even in the face of bad breaks.

There always has been a suspicion that the Yankees were only as good as Ruth and Gehrig. Ruth has been out of the game for two weeks, and Gehrig is hitting poorer than at any time since he won his spurs as a major league star. Lou is hitting a bare .300 and is in a bad slump.

But the Yankees keep rolling right along on the heels of the Athletics waiting for Connie Mack's highly-gearred machine to crack under its terrific pace.

When Ruth and Meusel were laid low by illness, Huggins courageously benched Koenig and injected three reserves in the Yankee's lineup on June 1. In addition Bill Dickey, who played in only 10 games last season, was doing practically all of the catching and shortstop was far from a settled problem.

Yet the Yankees have kept pace with the Athletics during June and gained ground on the other contenders. They have won nine out of their last twelve games and improved their percentage from .446 to .604 and their standing from third place to second place.

WOMAN HELD TO DISTRICT COURT

Mrs. Mary Danielson Waives Preliminary Hearing on Charge of Grand Larceny

BAIL FIXED AT $100

Is Accused of the Theft of Clothing Owned by Aitkin Woman on May 26

Alleged to have stolen a box of clothing from the waiting room of the N. P. depot on May 26, Mrs. Mary Danielson, 23, was held to the district court from municipal court Thursday by Judge J. H. Warner on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Through her attorney, William J. Swanson, the young woman, who Sheriff Claus Theorin asserts had no definite home in Brainerd but had been sleeping in parks and rest rooms throughout the city, waived preliminary examination. Bail was fixed at $100.

Mrs. Danielson is accused of stealing two silk dresses, two house dresses and a pair of shoes, the property of Miss June Shisler of Aitkin.

According to Sheriff Theorin the woman has admitted the theft.

Concerning Baseball in Brainerd To Editor Brainerd Dispatch:

In all communities baseball has its ups and downs. In Brainerd the game has passed over several times only to be revived by the recruiting of ball-players from the "sand-lot" teams in various sections of the city (and by the way, these sand-lot teams are the real back-bone of baseball throughout the United States).

A few years ago, one of our popular Northern Pacific officials, with the co-operation of certain business men and other public-spirited citizens of Brainerd, spent no end of time and effort toward providing a suitable baseball ground and athletic field for the development of baseball and other outdoor sports with the result that interest was developed to a point where it looked as though Brainerd was well on its way toward a real baseball revival. After the expenditure of considerable money on the ball field and grandstand between the N. P. and Kingwood street fills, which is the most centrally located spot in the city, for an athletic field, the project was allowed to come to a standstill through lack of funds for its completion. Last year the pipe in the street drain at the west end of Kingwood street fill became broken and during every rain the water from the street instead of draining off into the sewer ran down the side of the fill, through the grandstand, washing sand from the hillside out onto the diamond, making this location unfit for baseball. Nothing was done by the city toward repairing the street drain until recently and nothing whatever has been done toward repairing the damage to the grandstand and ball field. Inasmuch as this damage was caused by the drain referred to, it would seem that the city officials should have taken action toward making these repairs long ago.

Interest in baseball or any athletic sport can be kept alive only by proper facilities for its development. In the new high school building now under construction, provision has been made for a gymnasium of ample proportions and seating capacity for all indoor sports, such as basketball, etc., and in the near future Brainerd, on account of its location, will be drawing tournaments of this kind. The same could be said for outdoor athletic events if provision is made for an athletic field. By the expenditure of a comparatively small amount of money for drainage and surfacing, the present ball park could be made into such a field.

No, very hard water

THE pots and pans weren't very greasy. But the water was hard. It mixed with the soap, and formed scum! How could pots and pans get clean? They just had to stay greasy! They needed a cleaner!

WOMAN HELD TO DISTRICT COURT

Mrs. Mary Danielson Waives Preliminary Hearing on Charge of Grand Larceny

BAIL FIXED AT $100

Is Accused of the Theft of Clothing Owned by Aitkin Woman on May 26

Alleged to have stolen a box of clothing from the waiting room of the N. P. depot on May 26, Mrs. Mary Danielson, 23, was held to the district court from municipal court Thursday by Judge J. H. Warner on the charge of grand larceny in the second degree.

Through her attorney, William J. Swanson, the young woman, who Sheriff Claus Theorin asserts had no definite home in Brainerd but had been sleeping in parks and rest rooms throughout the city, waived preliminary examination. Bail was fixed at $100.

Mrs. Danielson is accused of stealing two silk dresses, two house dresses and a pair of shoes, the property of Miss June Shisler of Aitkin.

According to Sheriff Theorin the woman has admitted the theft.

Fix Up that CELLAR ENTRANCE

The entrance to the cellar is likely to be neglected. Ricketty stairway, down which a careless step will send you hurtling—cracked walls, and unsightly trash. True pride in the home will not permit these "ugly spots" to remain, even though they may be hidden from sight. EVERY part of the house should be in ship-shape order.
